

Bowling Green East Little League
Rules and Regulations

Revised Spring, 2014

DRAFT

PURPOSE

The purpose of the draft is to equally distribute the players who were on a major league team the previous year and those players who were not assigned to a major league team during the previous year. Prior to the draft, a tryout session will be held for each age group. At that time, all managers and coaches can evaluate the talent and determine the players they wish to draft.

ORDER OF DRAFT

The order of draft is determined by a random draw of the teams in the draft. A separate random draw is conducted for phases 1 and 2.. After the order has been established, teams will draft in that order in the odd numbered rounds and in the reverse order in the even numbered rounds, throughout all phases of the draft. If a team has filled a slot in the preliminaries, as outlined later, the team will “pass” that round and resume its draft at the next available round.

DRAFT FORMAT

There are two phases to the draft:

- 1) First phase – Consists of as many rounds as is necessary to draft enough players to complete phase 1. All returning major league players must be drafted in phase 1.
- 2) Second phase –Consists of enough rounds to distribute all remaining players in the minor leagues.

PRELIMINARIES TO THE DRAFT

The following items should be done before the draft begins:

- 1) Current league policy is for each major league roster to carry 11 players and each minor league team roster to attempt to carry no more than 12 players.
- 2) Identify all eligible players whose parent is a manager or coach of a major league team or minor league team. Slot the eligible player in the draft according to the following:
 - a. Major league manager– 1st round of phase I
 - b. Major league coach – 2nd round of phase I, or 1st round if the manager does not have a child playing. c. Minor league manager’s child – 1st round of the 2nd phase;
 - d. Minor league coach’s child – 2nd round of the 2nd phase, or 1st round if the manager does not have a child playing.

If a team does not have an eligible child to slot in the first or second rounds, the team will draft in the established order and may select any other eligible player in the draft.

Exception: If a minor league manager or coach has a child that they wish to make eligible for promotion to the major leagues, the child is not slotted at this time.

This child is open for the draft during phase 1. If the child has not been drafted at the end of phase 1, they will be slotted as above.

- 3) Identify all major league managers who have more than one child eligible to play in the major leagues. One child is slotted according to the above guidelines and the other child is slotted in the last round of Phase 1.

Exception: A major league manager may declare a child ineligible for the major leagues. In that case, the child is open for the draft beginning in the 2nd phase. Under no circumstances will the child be eligible to play in the major leagues during that season, except as a temporary roster replacement.

- 4) Identify any brother or sister combinations that are participating in the tryouts. When there is such a combination and one of the pair is drafted, the remaining brother or sister must be selected in the last round in that particular phase of the draft.

Exception: If, prior to the start of the draft, a majority of the major league managers feel that any of the brother/sister combinations should not play in the major leagues, or if one of the combination is age 8 or 9, that brother or sister will be declared ineligible for the major leagues and open for the draft beginning in the 2nd phase. Under no circumstances will the child be eligible to play in the major leagues during that season, except as a temporary roster replacement.

9 and 12 YEAR-OLDS

9 year-old players are ineligible to play in the major league. It is mandatory that all 12 year-olds are drafted to a major league team unless deemed ineligible by a board committee. The board committee shall be appointed by the President and consist of at least 3 board members. They will be responsible for evaluating, during tryouts, the talent of all 12 year-olds who did not play on a major league team the previous year. If in the committee's opinion, it would pose a safety issue for the 12 year-old to play in the major league, the committee may declare the child ineligible for phase 1 of the draft. The committee shall consult with the child's parents before declaring the child ineligible.

NO-SHOWS AND LATE SIGNUPS

- 1) If a player does not show at the league tryouts, he cannot be drafted. At the end of phase 2, all no-shows will be placed in a lottery with the first name drawn assigned to the team scheduled to draft next.

Exception: If there is a player who does not show at the tryouts but is known to have the capabilities to play in the major leagues, an exception can be made. A manager, coach or board member must speak, at draft night, about the player's abilities in baseball and other sports. With all managers being aware of the player's abilities, that player can be placed in the open draft and taken during any round.

- 2) If a player signs up after the draft, they will be assigned to the minor league team scheduled to draft next. Under no circumstances will a late signup be eligible to play in the major leagues during that season, except as a temporary roster replacement.

OTHER RULES

- 1) Parent's requests for a particular league, manager, coach or teammate will not be honored.
 - 2) Major and minor league coaches must be chosen before the date of the first scheduled tryout.

OTHER LEAGUE RULES

MANDATORY PLAY RULE

The Bowling Green East Little League follows the mandatory play rule as established by Little League.

- 1) The mandatory play rule consists of six consecutive defensive outs and at least one time at bat. A starting player cannot return to the lineup until their substitute has complied with the mandatory play rule.
- 2) In all legally shortened games, such as rain, the mandatory play rule will be disregarded for that game.
- 3) A manager may announce to the official scorer, prior to the start of the game, that a player is suspended for disciplinary actions such as missing practice. When a suspension is in effect, the mandatory play rule does not apply for that player in that game.

PITCH COUNT

The Bowling Green East Little League will comply with the pitch count rule as established by Little League. The official score keeper is responsible for keeping the pitch count and their total shall be final.

PITCHER REST

The Bowling Green East Little League adopts the following requirements for the amount of rest required between pitching appearances, based on the number of pitches thrown:

1. If a pitcher throws 66 or more pitches, the pitcher must have at least 4 calendar days of rest before the pitcher is eligible to throw;
2. If a pitcher throws 51-65 pitches, the pitcher must have at least 3 calendar days of rest before the pitcher is eligible to throw.
3. If a pitcher throws 36-50 pitches, the pitcher must have at least 2 calendar days of rest before the pitcher is eligible to throw.
4. If the pitcher throws 21-35 pitches, the pitcher must have at least 1 calendar day of rest.
5. If the pitcher throws less than 21 pitches, no calendar day of rest is required.

SEASON SCHEDULE

- 1) Based upon the number of teams, and with manager input, the Board will establish a schedule format each year.

If the Board chooses, it can establish a split season format to include the following:

The regular season will be divided into two halves and, at the end of each half, a champion will be determined based upon won-loss records during that half. If two or more teams have identical records, the league tiebreaker rule will take effect. If the same team wins both halves of the regular season, they will be declared league champion. If two different teams win a half season, a playoff will be held between those two teams to determine the league champion.

MINOR LEAGUE

The purpose of the Minor League program is to provide training and instruction for those players who do not qualify for selection in the Major League.

The Minor League program is the responsibility and is an integral part of the chartered Little League. It is not and may not be operated as a separate entity. It is to be viewed as a farm system for the Major Leagues and all players, except as previously noted, are subject to being promoted to the Major Leagues during the draft or regular season.

TIME LIMITS

Major league games do not have a time limit and are to be played until completion or suspended by the umpire-in-chief. Minor league games have a time limit of one hour and forty-five minutes. No inning may be started after that time but any that have started shall be completed according to Little League rules.

No inning in either league may start after 10:00 pm as outlined in Little League rules.

10-RUN RULE

If after four (4) innings, three and one-half innings if the home team is ahead, one team has a lead of ten (10) runs or more, the manager of the team with the least runs shall concede the victory to the opponent.

FORFEITED GAMES

If a team is unable to field nine players at the start of the game, that team shall be subject to an automatic forfeiture. A grace period of 15 minutes will be allowed.

PERMANENT ROSTER REPLACEMENT

If a major league team's roster is reduced to 9 players and no player on the roster is expected to return for the remainder of the season, that manager shall have the right to select one player from the minor league as a permanent roster replacement. The manager shall notify the player agent of his selection within three days of reaching the 9-player minimum. The player agent will notify the minor league manager and verify the child's parental acceptance of the selection. The following are not eligible to be added as a permanent roster replacement:

1. Minor league manager's child that was slotted in phase 2;
2. Minor league coach's child that was slotted in phase 2;
3. A child that was a no-show at tryouts and was not made eligible for phase one of the draft;
4. A child that was a late signup after the tryouts;
5. Any child if there are fourteen or fewer days left in the regular season.

TEMPORARY ROSTER REPLACEMENT

If a major league team cannot field 9 players for a game, the manager may select a minor league player to play that game. Any minor league player is eligible to be selected, provided they are age 10 or older and have not been previously selected as a temporary roster replacement.

PITCHER REPLACEMENT

In the minor leagues, if a pitcher hits three batters in an inning or hits five batters in a game, the pitcher must be replaced.

RESCHEDULING POSTPONED GAMES

Major Leagues:

1. Postponed games will be played on the next available Wednesday or Saturday in the order they appeared on the original schedule
2. Monday and Tuesday postponed games will be played on the next open Wednesday.
3. Thursday and Friday postponed games will be played on the next open Saturday.
4. Postponed games that get rained out will be rescheduled at the discretion of the President of the League.
5. Wednesday games will be played at 5:15 pm and 7:15 pm. Saturday game times will be determined by the President of the league.
6. In the absence of the President, the Player Agent shall have the authority to cancel games due to weather and reschedule games according to this policy.
7. Teams have the option of mutually agreeing on a make-up game date. If teams cannot agree on a date to reschedule postponed games, the game will be rescheduled according to paragraphs 2 and 3. It is the responsibility of one or both managers to contact the League President with a mutually agreed upon game date no later than 11 pm on the date the game was postponed
8. Games rescheduled as per paragraphs 1 and 2 will be considered Class A rescheduled games. Games rescheduled as per paragraphs 4 and 7 will be considered Class B rescheduled games.
9. A Class A rescheduled game shall have priority over a Class B rescheduled game.
Example: A Friday game between the Reds and Cubs is postponed due to rain. Both coaches agree to play the game on the following Wednesday, instead of Saturday. This is a Class B rescheduled game. On Monday, both games are rained out and the teams agree to follow the guidelines in paragraph 2 and play on Wednesday. This becomes a Class A rescheduled game and the Reds and Cubs would have to reschedule their game.
10. When a make-up game is rescheduled, and either team cannot field a 9 player roster, they shall fill out their roster by bringing up enough players from the minor league to complete a 9 player roster. Any unprotected minor league player will be eligible to be called up to fill out a major league roster so that a rescheduled major league game can be played. However, no minor league player may be called up who is scheduled to play a minor league game on the same date.
11. If a team is unable to field nine players after a game has started, the game will be completed before the next regularly scheduled game between the two teams or as per paragraphs 2, 3, or 7.
12. There will no make-up games scheduled for Derby weekend or Memorial Day weekend.

Minor Leagues:

Minor League postponed games will be played on the next available date.

SEASON-ENDING TIE BREAKER

If two teams have identical records at the end of the regular season, the tiebreaker shall be as follows:

1. Compare head-to-head records.
2. If there is still a tie, both teams will be declared co-champions.
3. A coin flip between the co-champion managers will determine which manager has first choice of All-Star teams.

If three or more teams have identical records at the end of the regular season, the tiebreaker shall be as follows:

1. Compare the head-to-head combined won-loss record of each team tied for the championship. The team with the best record shall be declared league champions.
2. If there is still a tie, the teams with the best head-to-head combined won-loss record will be declared co-champions.
3. A coin flip between the co-champion managers will determine which manager has first choice of All-Star teams.

The Bowling Green East Little League will field four All-Star teams at the conclusion of its regular season. The number of players on each team will meet the requirements of Little League and be decided by the manager of the team.

The league will communicate this policy at the time of player registration. Two weeks prior to the end of the season, the league will restate the policy and parents will be provided a form to sign if they are unable to make the commitment and that child's name will be excluded from all ballots.

 - 1) All eligible 11 and 12-year old players on a major league roster.
 - 2) All eligible 11-year old players on a major league roster.
 - 3) All eligible 9 and 10-year old players on a major league roster

4. Minor league managers, coaches and players will cast a ballot for the 9 and 10-year old minor league players.
5. The official scorer for each league will cast ballot(s) in their respective league.
6. A person completing any ballot will select twelve (12) players. A person may select less than 12 players but if they select more than 12, the ballot will be voided.
7. The Player Agent will be responsible for distributing, supervising and collecting all official ballots. The Player Agent and the President of the League are responsible for the tabulation of the ballots.

PLAYER SELECTION

1. After the Player Agent and President have tabulated the ballots, the Player Agent will compile a list of all players on each ballot and their respective votes.
2. The Player Agent will give the list to the respective manager of each All-Star team.
3. Each manager will review the list and make their final All-Star selections with the following restrictions:

 - b) The manager of the 10-11 year-old All-Star team must select at least 8 of the top 12 players with the most votes from the 11 year-old ballot, excluding any 11 year olds who have been selected to the 11-12 year-old team. The remainder of the team may come from any eligible 11 year-olds in the majors or minors.
 - c) The manager of the 9-10 year-old Sanctioned All-Star team must select at least 8 of the top 12 players with the most votes from the 9-10 year old major league ballot. The remaining players may come from any eligible 9-10 year-old in the majors or minors.
 - d) The manager of the 9-10 year-old Regional All-Star team may select from any remaining eligible 9-10 year-old in the majors or minors.

Note: If any player declines an invitation to be on an All-Star team, the manager will have the opportunity to replace that player with any eligible player and will be deemed to have complied with the selection process.

Note: If an 11 year-old declines an invitation to be on the 11-12 year-old sanctioned All-Star team, that person shall be ineligible for consideration on the 11 year-old sanctioned All-Star team.

HONORABLE MENTION

For the 11-12 year-old team, there will be four honorable mention positions. They will be chosen by the total number of votes received and will be eligible to replace any All-Star player who becomes ill or unable to participate. Replacement of All-Star players will be the decision of the manager.

RECOGNITION

All-Star teams and Honorable Mention Players will be announced at the post-season banquet.

MANAGER SELECTION

The order of finish during the regular season will determine the order in which the corresponding manager may select the All-Star team of his choice.

11-12 Year-Old Team, 10-11 Year-Old Team and 9-10 Year-Old Sanctioned Team:

2. Losing Manager of the playoff for the League Championship;
3. Manager of the next best record over the entire regular season in the Major League.

2. Manager of the second best record over the entire regular season in the Major League;
3. Manager of the third best record over the entire regular season in the Major League.
